RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT CELL

Research Policy

R & D Cell of Vivekananda College of Engineering for Women [VCEW] provides support and guidance to the faculty and students to actively participate in research and development activities that are relevant to industry as well as society. The R & D Cell also encourages faculty to submit research proposals to various government/non-government funding organizations and continuously monitors the request for project proposals. Research proposals must pass through a multi-tiered review process, during which they are examined by Research Advisory Committee and Code of Ethics Committee.

In order to foster research interest and breakthroughs in the cutting-edge fields of science, engineering, and technology, the institution has established a strong research policy. It encourages and promotes research culture to improve the professional skills of faculty, research scholars, and students to achieve the vision and mission of the institute.

The following are the policies which are in force at present:

1. Faculty are encouraged to register for Ph.D. and apply for research Projects to National/International agencies for funding.
2. Faculty pursuing Ph.D. are provided the following facilities and incentives.
 - Provided duty leave/study leave to complete their Ph.D. early.
